Legal aspects of the information society

Malcolm Bain
Manuel Gallego
Manuel Martínez Ribas
Judit Rius

UOC

Universitat Oberta de Catalunya

www.uoc.edu

Malcolm Bain

Malcolm is a lawyer and a partner at Id Law Partners, Barcelona, a law firm providing advice in intellectual and industrial property and information technology law. He specialises in the law applied to software and free content electronic commerce and personal data protection.

Manuel Gallego

Manuel is a lawyer graduated from Universitat Pompeu Fabra with a master's degree in Business Law. He currently works as a lawyer at the law offices of Fornesa, Prada & Fernández de Barcelona, specialising in commercial law: Company Operations, Commercial Contracting and New Technologies.

Manuel Martínez Ribas

Manuel is a lawyer and a Partner at Id Law Partners, Barcelona. He has served as coordinator and manager of European projects. Manuel is a regular conference lecturer in Barcelona, Madrid (ESADE, IESE, Abad Oliva, Fomento, Recoletos, Barcelona Chamber, Catalonian Technologies Institute, Internet Global Conference, Pompeu Fabra University, Universidad Politécnica Barcelona, Navarra University), Brussels, Paris (University of Paris), Fontainebleau (INSEAD), Darmstadt, Munich, Stockholm, Amsterdam, Milan, Rome, London and Zurich. He has authored several electronic commerce publications, digital tests, electronic agents, RFID.

Judit Rius

Judit has a bachelor's degree in Law and a master's degree in International Studies from Universitat Pompeu Fabra. She was also granted the La Caixa scholarship to study towards a master's degree in law, science and technology at Stanford University. A practicing attorney, she specialises in advising companies in the information technology and pharmaceutical sectors. She has collaborated in research projects with grants from the European Union and is a co-author of a study on the Law and E-Trade in Spain.

Contents

Module 1

Introduction to the legal aspects of the information society

1. The free software movement and the law
2. The free software model
3. Objectives of the course, key concepts

Module 2

Intellectual property: authors' rights and copyright

1. Intellectual property: authors' rights and copyright
2. Protected works
3. Authorship and works created in open collaboration
4. Rights in protected works
5. Limits of authors' rights/copyright – fair use
6. Copyright
7. Database / Sui Generis Rights
8. Collective management organisations and digital levies
9. Legal protection of authors' rights/copyright
10. Conclusion

Module 3

Trademarks and patents

1. Trademarks
2. Patents
3. The controversy on software patentability
4. Conclusions

Module 4

Software licences and free software

1. Software licenses
2. Software contracts
3. Free software and free content
4. Free software licences
5. Free software licences in practice
6. Conclusion

Module 5

Legal aspects of online activities (Internet)

1. Introduction
2. Online activities
3. Liability of information society service providers
4. Ecommerce – Online Contracting
5. Electronic signatures

6. Cybercrime

Module 6
Privacy

1. Privacy – the protection of personal data
2. Basic concepts
3. General principles
4. Rights and obligations
5. Access to data and data transfers
6. Security obligations
7. Regulatory supervision
8. The legal framework for data privacy in other jurisdictions
9. Privacy in the sector of electronic communications
10. Conclusions: the impact of privacy on technological projects

Module 7
Open standards

1. Concepts
2. Standardisation processes – forums
3. Benefits of open standards
4. Controversies regarding open standards
5. The Future Way Forward?